Schools and Churches

This central Ohio church had persistent leaks as well as structural damages with a 30 year old spray polyurethane roof. Original scope included recoating 10,000 sq. ft. of SPF with 25 mils of acrylic and replacing the deteriorated fascia board.

A blue coating was installed to restore the roof to its original color. Citadel's sincore panels were used to replace the fascia so the leak problem would not occur again. Neogard's Acrylithane C was used to coat the panels and aluminum framing of the window system.
